

Vijay Times, 19 December 2006

IBM scientist

IBM India on Monday said it has appointed C Mohan as its chief scientist. Mohan would be responsible for development and leadership of IBM's technical community in India, a company release said. He would also help leverage IBM's technical strengths to build synergies with key stakeholders and give impetus to client engagements, it added.